People are learning that a little forethought off a saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.—ADV. d&w

GRADY CO. TEACHERS AT EDMOND MEET

Edmond, Okla., June 17.—The fourth meeting of the Grady county teachers was a very successful one. Following is the program:

Address by Prof. Wilson of the manual training department.

Story, "The King and the Monkeys," Miss Olive Mitchell.

Address, "Athletics in School," Wesley Hite.

Play, "The Farmer and the Lark," Mrs. E. H. Russell, stage manager; Miss Nancy Hunnicutt, Mother Lark; Ralph Lee, farmer; Prof. Morgan, son; Misses Eula Thompson, Lillian Schuster and Mrs. Killian, Baby Lark.

It might be surprising to some people in Grady county to learn that the dignified Prof. Morgan can act the "kid" part but it is the truth. He was the star of the play.

Prof. Wilson's address was very inspiring and enthusiastic. He talked on "Importance of Teaching a Child in Terms of the Life He is to Live." He urged the importance of forming problems from the daily business experiences of the home. Grady county children will doubtless reap a great benefit from this talk.

G. F. Newell was a pleasant visitor in the Grady county section Thursday.

Supt. A. E. Wickizer spent Saturday at his home in Ames looking after his garden and pigs.

Supt. M. H. Shepard was in Edmond Thursday. Owing to the condition of the river he did not arrive in time to attend the regular county meeting, much to the regret of the teachers.

David Starr Jordan will be here the 18th and 19th of this month.

In the paper tearing contest Thursday afternoon Prof. Wickizer won first for having torn the most perfect form of a white leghorn hen.

Rank and File.

He was a "rookie" on his first sentry duty at one of the government reservations. The corporal of the guard had told him what to do when the officer of the day appeared, which by rule ought to be at about half-past nine that night. Sentry was to notify corporal when the officer had passed. At ten o'clock no report from the sentry. The corporal wanted to know why. Much perturbed, the sentry said he was sorry. He had not seen the officer.

"Keep me posted," said the corporal sharply. "He might be late." Fifteen minutes later the officer appeared, and this colloquy ensued: Sentry—Who goes there? Officer—Officer of the day. Sentry—You're late, you are. You'll get the devil when the corporal of the guard sees you.

Cocoa as Currency.

Cocoa passed as currency among the natives of Central and South America at the time of the European conquest, and that despite a plentiful supply of gold. Joseph Acosta, in 1610, tells us the Indians used "none of their gold or silver for traffic in or buy withal," and until this day the custom continues among them that instead of money they use cocoa. The Aztecs of ancient Mexico also used "cocoa" as small change, as many as 2,000 beans being counted legal tender. The value of the beans may be judged from the fact that "a tolerably good slave" could be purchased for 100 of them.

Had Reason to Be Proud.

Traveler—I say, what are you people so proud about? Last time I came here everybody was very friendly and now I can hardly get a person to speak.

Uncle Eben—You'll pardon us, but it's our town pride. You see, Joe Summers picked up a guidebook that fell out of a motor car last week and we found that the old tannery swamp is a mountain town, Stummons' alone quarry a prefecture, Bill Moodler's beerhouse a wayside inn, and the whole country checkfull of historical antiques and delusions.

Advice for Business Men.

Get down off your high horse if you expect to be heard and patronized by common, everyday people. Put plain horse sense and honest intentions in your advertisements. These are the things that appeal to you, and in all essentials you are just like most of the people you're trying to sell goods to.—Jed Scarborough.

Literary Centenaries.

The year 1916 will be a remarkable one for anniversaries. First and foremost is the Shakespeare centenary; July 23rd will mark the centenary of the death of another of our greatest dramatists, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, who died in the greatest poverty, but was accorded a magnificent funeral in Westminster abbey. Other literary anniversaries are those of Charlotte Bronte, who was born in 1816, and Thomas Gray, the poet, who first saw the light a century earlier. This year also witnesses the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Philip James Riley, a poet who has always met with far greater veneration in the United States than in his native country.—London Tit Bits.
